This happened on the 13th ult. On the 2jth, the enemy made a sally from the sort, and advanced close up to our works, commencing and supporting the assault with great spirit and intrepidity j but they were repulsed, with the loss of about 200 Europeans, and their Colonel D Aquitaine taken prisoner. On or about the zo: h ult. there was an engagement between the British and French fleets near Pon(icherry, but I do not learn any decisive blow w as struck by either side. Monsieur Sjsrein returned to Cuddalore, and Sir Edward Hughes is supposed to have stood towards Madras, as it was reported he was in want of water, and his people were very sickly. The southern army, acting in the Carnatic, under the command of Colonel Lang, had made an irruption into the Coimbature country, subduing...
