Thus Mr. Robert Chalmers, one of the principal clerks in the Treasury, that is, one of the officials through whom control over expenditures is exercised by the Treasury, when asked the question: Now I want to ask you a question with regard to the Accounting Officers of the Departments over which you exercise control. To what extent are they financial controllers, or financial officers exercising power in the interests of financial control? replied: They undoubtedly do act very much indeed in the direction of financial control. We undoubtedly look to the Accountant General of the Army and the Accountant General of the Navy as the people inside the Department Report of., ., Committee whose disposition is towards economy, and who do scrupulously examine expenditure to see that the money expended is expended to the best...
