Excerpt: . . . estly entreated forgiveness: she never occa sioned any trouble afterwards. For three years, the schools gradually extended in Mr. Raikes neighbourhood, to which they appear then to have been confined, and where several clergymen, besides the minister mentioned by Mr. R. , very laudably contributed to the success of the scheme, by their personal attentions. The report of that success, in and about Gloucester, could not fail to draw attention from other parts of England. In 1784, the plan was adopted in Yorkshire, by se. eral manufacturing towns. In Leeds, 1800 children were speedily collected. In this year the Sunday School at Stockport was opened. This school has since exceeded in magnitude any other single establishment of this kind. In the year 1785, William Fox, Esq. formerly a merchant in London, and afterwards of Lechdale in Gloucestershire, being anxious for the general education of the poor, endeavoured to excite the public attention to the subject, and wrote the following letter to Mr. Raikes: MR. FOX TC MR. RAIKES. London, June 15, 1785. Sir, --The libefality and goodness of heart manifested in your benevolent plan of Sunday Schools, will, I trust, render unnecessary any apology, though from a stranger, when it is considered, his only view in writing is, that he may be enabled to copy after so worthy an example. You must know, Sir, long before your excellent letter appeared in the papers, I had fell a compassion, and entertained sentiments for the indigent and...
