In many fields the cotton ball was just ready to pick, and the snowy white appearance in one field and the next large fields of corn with its silk hanging down, was pretty, to say the least, and interesting to one who sees these things for the first time. On the evening of the twelfth, we arrived at Fort Worth, a city of 40,000 people, where we found a committee from Tarrant Chapter in waiting, and later we met our good Sister Hart, W. A. Grand Conductress, and also the efficient Grand Secretary of Texas--to her we are indebted for favors. We were driven to the Hotel Delaware, where apartments had been procured for us; and we were glad to get a good night's rest. Oct. 13, at 2 p. M., the Grand Chapter was called to order...
